4 x 5-1/4 – card front – die cut with rectangle

1-1/2 x 4 – stamp colour and die cut butterflies

Ranger Watercolor Paper

DIRECTIONS:

1. I started by sponging a piece of Neenah 80# Solar White cardstock with the Peacock Feathers Distress Oxides.
2. Next, I took another piece of the Neenah 80# cardstock starting at 4 x 5-1/4 and used the Simon Says Stamp Stitched Rectangle Wafer Die to cut down the panel and provide that beautifully stitched edge to frame my artwork.

3. I placed the Circle of Leaves die near the top of that panel and ran it through the BIG Shot again, to complete my card front. I stamped the sentiment from Beautiful Day in the bottom left corner in VersaFine Onyx black.
4. I layered the sponged piece behind the die piece with foam tape to create some depth before attaching it to my A2 card base.
5. For the butterflies, I grabbed a small scrap of watercolour paper and stamped both butterflies in VersaFine Onyx black and then used my Turquoise Green Zig Brush marker to add a little colour to them before cutting them out with the coordinating dies.
6. I used small pieces of foam tape to attach the butterflies and then added a bit of bling with the Pretty Pink Posh Party Mix (LOVE all the pretty rhinestones in this little bag of goodness).
7. Finally, I used a clear Wink of Stella brush to add some glittery loveliness to the white spots on the butterflies.

Happy Stamping
