DIRECTIONS:

- I started by stamping the large magnolia flowers and the small flower/leaf cluster in a waterproof black ink, VersaFine Onyx Black and then used my Nuvo Aqua Flow Pens to blend pink and purple together to color it. Nuvo Aqua Flow Pens Wild Plum and Indigo Dawn. I blended Aqua Splash and Lemon Zest together to paint the leaves green, as I don't have a green pen. (yet, haha)
- While the flowers dried, I stamped the flowers onto a piece of Inkadinkado Stamping Mask paper and fussy cut them out.
- Next, I laid down a background watercolor in Aqua Splash and a small amount of Lemon Zest (blended together creates the light green).

- Once that was dry, I masked one flower at a time and over stamped the solid leaf branch in Altenew Crisp Dye Ink - Parrot.
- Then I used the Onyx Black ink again to stamp the skinny branch stamp.
- I used a black marker to add some dots and a white gel pen to add some white dots, along with splattering a small amount of white acrylic paint.
- Finally, when the entire art piece was dry I mounted it to an A2 sized White card base.
- Cut out the Will's Hand "Hope" dies, layered them and attached them and then embellished with Nuvo Prickly Pear Sequins.
